User Flow and Information Architecture

Bottom tabs: Home, Skills, Projects, Edit Profile, About.

Projects tab contains a stack: Projects List to Project Details. Android Back returns to the list and keeps the current tab session.

Profile editing: Edit tab, fill fields, validate, Save. Invalid input blocks saving and shows field-level messages. Valid input is written to AsyncStorage and shown on Home.

Media flow: Take photo or Choose from gallery, permission request, preview in avatar, Replace or Remove. Denied permission or cancellation shows a message and keeps the current photo.

Saved-state flow: App launch loads the saved profile from AsyncStorage before showing tabs.

Visual and Accessibility Decisions

Colors: dark green on white and near-black text on white give contrast above 4.5:1. Error text uses #B3261E on white.

Typography: system font, 16 px body, 18 to 24 px titles, bold headings. Layouts use Flexbox with wrapping chips and scrolling screens so larger system text does not clip content.

Spacing: 16 px screen padding and gaps, 48 px minimum touch targets for buttons and inputs.

Accessibility: every button and input has an accessibilityLabel, headings use the header role, status messages use a polite live region, and the avatar and photo have labels.
